PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I build brands and keep them consistent once they hit real campaigns, layouts, and product surfaces - not just a logo on a deck. I designed Uncover's identity from scratch and carried it into web and app, and right now at Crevia I run branding and campaign design across four client brands at once, working across print, digital, and social without the system drifting between them. Six years across brand and product design; comfortable moving between typography-first campaign work and structured design systems.

CORE SKILLS

Branding: Identity systems, logo design, typography, layout, brand guidelines, packaging-adjacent visual language

Campaigns: Social and campaign assets, key visuals, multi-brand consistency under live deadlines

Design Systems: Component libraries, reusable patterns, documentation for handoff and scale

Digital & UI/UX: Responsive web, Figma, Wix, Framer, product interfaces alongside brand work
